

Jonathan Tallman, AIA, GGP, GPCP, NCARB

Jonathan Tallman is an architecture market segment leader for public safety, including fire stations, police departments, and city/village halls. Tallman is passionate about advocacy of reform and change in the justice system and is active with AIA Academy of Architecture for Justice. Tallman strives to help public safety officials achieve their mission through planning and design as well as design for the health and wellbeing of the officers and firefighters that use them daily. Through thoughtful design, he aims to mitigate the health risks of PTS, cancer and future pandemics.
