

Jovani Lopez

Judson University

Jovani Lopez will be a Senior this fall at Judson University majoring in Architecture with a focus on residential architecture. Born in the US and raised in a rural town in Mexico, Jovani is an avid traveler and dreamed of a future where buildings existed in harmony with nature.

As a student of architecture, he see that good design should serve everyone, not simply those with means. His goal is to pursue social architecture by creating homes, shelters and spaces that affirm that housing is a human right, not a luxury.
